About This Content

Are you enjoying using our free GlassWire version? If so we hope you'll consider upgrading to GlassWire Basic with all the awesome features listed below.

Buy GlassWire Basic to add "Ask to connect" and "Lock down" firewall modes, monitor 3 remote PCs, add the mini graph to your desktop, see all the devices on your WiFi/network, enable Webcam/Mic detection, access new graph skins, and add the ability to hide some apps from the graph. GlassWire Basic also gives you 6 months of graph history. The GlassWire Basic license should only be used with one PC.

GlassWire's "Ask to connect" and "Lock down" modes allow you to only accept new application connections if you choose to do so. Click "Allow" to accept the new network connection from an application and "Block" to block it. Are you leaving your PC for a while? If so go to the "Firewall" tab and choose "Block all" mode. Now no new connections can come in or out of your PC while you're away.

Want to monitor the other PCs in your house, or remote gaming PCs? You need GlassWire's remote access mode. You can try this feature for free before buying for one PC in our free version by going to GlassWire's settings. GlassWire Basic can monitor 3 remote PCs simultaneously instead of only 1 with the free version.

Are you tired of having to open the full GlassWire application to see your network data? If so go to the top left GlassWire menu and choose "Show mini viewer" to see a graph summary on your desktop. You can even make this window transparent in GlassWire's settings, it looks awesome!

Do you ever feel nervous someone is accessing your network or WiFi without your permission and using all your bandwidth? Having a slow network can cause your games to lag and glitch out. Install GlassWire then click the “Network” tab to see a list of devices on your network. Go to GlassWire’s settings to get alerted when a new unknown device joins your network. Be sure to reboot after installing GlassWire to pick up all new connections.

Are you nervous an app is using your webcam or mic when you don’t realize it? Go to GlassWire’s settings and turn on GlassWire’s webcam/mic monitor feature to see when your webcam and mic are accessed and see what app is doing it.

Check out GlassWire’s new paid skins under the “GlassWire” menu after upgrading to the paid version.

Are you always using BitTorrent or another application that is constantly sending/receiving data, and does that app make it hard to read your graph? If so go to the “Graph” tab, then click on “Apps” then click the app name you want to hide and choose “Hide App” to remove its data from the graph.

Also, don’t forget as a gamer you can put GlassWire into “Snooze” mode by going to the top left GlassWire menu when you don’t want any notifications, plus you can go into GlassWire’s settings to disable whatever desktop notifications you don’t like.

Buy GlassWire Basic now on Steam to instantly insert your activation code and get all these awesome features!

Now I can know when pervs hack my web cam to watch me play games and drink beer. A++. When you get this software (Basic to Elite), I would highly recommend that you head on over directly to Glasswire's official webpage and download it from there. This is because the steam version is currently stuck at v 1.2 and the official site is already updated to 2.0. I hope the devs would update the steam version soon.

That disclaimer aside,

Are you scared that your middle aged neighbour may be spying on you or stealing your wifi connection?

Are you mad at your malware programmes running in the background that's stealing all your bandwidth?

Or are you just like me and don't need Third-Party antivirus solutions and you're just using Windows defender to protect your PC?

Then shut up and purchase this software NOW!!!

It works so well. And I love it. And it actually does its job.

*it says 0.0 hrs on mine because I don't launch it via steam*. Nice... Nice. Not thrilling... but nice. (c)

Seriously guys. This actually is a good piece of software.

Worth its money.
