They also have a page up on their site that tells what they are going to be doing for the New Year. Because of the economic downturn the downtrend in the gold price, and the ongoing uncertainty with regards to future fiscal policy the stock market has been very choppy in the last few months. In spite of the gloom, however, some of the most successful companies in the US and around the world have not changed their game plan, and have continued to outdo themselves in the areas they've been working on. I've selected 5 of the best companies to watch in 2010. 5. PayPal – Founded by Elon Musk (PayPal co-founder), PayPal has revolutionized the way that people do business and exchange value. The company is currently valued at $10 billion and only has about 50 employees, compared to the 900+ employees at Google. The company's net income for the first half of 2009 was over $1 billion. PayPal is up 87% in the past year, and is currently traded on the NASDAQ exchange. PayPal has had an enormous impact on the finances of small businesses and people that are just getting started. They have also had a huge impact on the gaming industry. 4. Sony Computer Entertainment America (SCEA) – SCEA is the division of Sony Corporation that is responsible for the U.S. market for all Sony products. SCEA has a variety of divisions, including Sony Computer Entertainment Europe (SCEU), Sony Computer Entertainment Japan (SCEJ), Sony Computer Entertainment of America (SCEA), Sony Network Entertainment (SNE), and Sony Online Entertainment (SOE). In addition to video games, SCEA has an extensive line of Sony products including the PlayStation Portable, PlayStation 3, PS2 Classic, PlayStation 2 Classics, PSP Go, PSPGo, Bravia TVs, Sony Digital Cameras, Sony laptops, cameras, games, audio, etc. Sony Computer Entertainment of America (SCEA) has had a rough few years in the U.S. market. SCEA has been in the red for several years and has been reported to be on the verge of bankruptcy. But as of October 2009 SCEA has announced that it is now profitable. 3. eBay – Incorporating the online auction site eBay, the world's largest online auction site, has made an enormous impact on the world.
